

THE MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL—FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1859.

Daily Appeal

MEMPHIS.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1859.

Largest Circulation in the City.
Reading Matter on Every Page.
The Official Journal of the City.

THE MAJOR-GENERALSHIP.
After a long and careful consideration and for the reason that he was unwilling to come in conflict with a friend who was previously in the field, the undersigned withdraws his name from the nomination. My dear General, I am sorry to do this. He is about to return to the service, so he returns his official thanks to those of his friends who have so generously given him his assurance of support.

JNO. R. MCCLANAHAN.

DESCRIPTION OF THE DOVE OVER THE JACKSON MONUMENT.
Messrs. MILLER, COLEMAN and DUNLAP, the committee appointed to select a plan for a dove to be placed over the Jackson monument, yesterday, and approved the drawing of JAMES B. COOK. This drawing may be seen at GLENZEE & VAZEN's Main-street. We give a synopsis of Mr. Cook's design.

The dove is a tasteful type of the Corinthian order of architecture, circular in form, with three steps to ascend to the pedestal. In the centre, beneath the stately canopy supported by four columns, is a nest containing two eggs. The wings are spread wide, and the tail is tucked under the nest. The dove is resting on the globe, 300 feet from the rising ground, the valley presenting no change in formation the whole way up.

Small and plainings implements are scattered about the globe, so known as to give the way to the sides by the gulf and the Colorado.

The monolith had been committed to Col. J. D. McDonald, at his residence, on the 26th November, at an expense of $1,000, and was killed by two robbers when he was trying to obtain a safe against their procurement.

The dove is a statue of the Corinthian order, and as the ornamental parts are perfectly proportioned, the character of him whom the structure is designed to perpetuate.

Gen. JACKSON was a Mason, therefore the dove is appropriate to a masonic emblem, which have worked in this naval and engineering science.

The temple is entered by ascending three steps, emblematic of three stages of man's life, manhood and age.

The dove is a dove of peace, emblematic of the science of man's life.

The Corinthian columns are emblematic of the strength and beauty of the temple we find the great supports of Masonry—Wisdom, Strength and Beauty.

The world surrounding the globe is also mortal to which all aspire. The Americans eagle surrounding the globe reveals us as the great nation with whose destiny are interwoven the fate of the world.

The dove is a dove of peace, which consecrates his life.

The design and its execution are beautiful, and in perfect taste, and in strict accordance with the principles of art and engineering science.

Plans of a different character were presented by other architects, but Mr. Cook's was chosen, as the committee concurred, upon the result of the meeting of the most eminent men who were drawn and colored them.

The estimated cost of the dove is $1,000.

INAUGURATION OF THE BUST OF JACKSON.

At 12 o'clock, A. M., the military and civil associations invited to participate in the inauguration, will approach Court Square by Main street, and proceed, through their respective marshals, to the City Hall, where they will assign their places in the procession.

At 12 o'clock, the procession will be formed at eleven o'clock, and will enter the Square through the gates.

2. The procession will be formed at eleven o'clock, and will proceed, through their respective marshals, to the City Hall, where they will assign their places in the procession.

3. The procession will be formed at eleven o'clock, and will enter the Square through the gates.

5. Citizens on foot are invited to form on the northern side walk of the Square.

6. The Chief Marshal, accompanied by his aids, will enter the Square, and wear red scarf, will take position on Main street, in front of the Square, at 10 o'clock.

JOSE R. WILLIAMS,
Chief Marshal.

ORDER OF PROCESSION.

The procession will leave Court Square in the following order:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

SECOND DIVISION:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

THIRD DIVISION:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

FOURTH DIVISION:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Fifth Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Sixth Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Seventh Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Eighth Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Ninth Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Tenth Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Eleventh Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Twelfth Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Thirteenth Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Fourteenth Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Fifteenth Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Sixteenth Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Seventeenth Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.

3. The military and civil associations of the day, the Alameda and officers of the city, the veterans of 1812, and the officers and privates of all the war in which our country has been engaged.

4. The Mayor of the day, and the Chairman of the Committee of Safety.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State, and his Staff, and the Chaplain of the day—carries.

Special Guests—in carriages.

Eighteenth Division:

1. Music.

2. Military.